

Adam Braun

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

How will people feel after seeing Adam's speech?

To put it simply - like an internal light switch has been flipped. Every talk blends memorable storytelling with accessible takeaways and a challenge to apply the learnings from the keynote into the professional and personal journey of each audience member. The consistent feedback has been that those who attend Adam's speeches feel profound inspiration, attainment of new knowledge and clarity of actions to take next.

Are Adam's speeches customizable?

Yes! There are specific keynote topics with audience takeaways that Adam has crafted that are visible on his website, but each of the hundreds of keynote talks that Adam has given throughout his career has been fully customized to the audience and event itself. No two talks are identical, each is it's own experience.

Does Adam give virtual speeches?

Absolutely. Adam will work with event organizers to identify the preferred method of delivery, whether in-person or virtual, to ensure your event is a success and your audience leaves buzzing.

What is the process of booking Adam for a speech?

The first step is to reach out via the form here and share the details of your event. Next we'll arrange a precall consultation so that Adam can learn about your audience, event goals and any additional details to help customize his talk so that your event a massive success. There's usually an A/V walkthrough onsite the day of the event, and Adam will always seek to accommodate specific requests that are shared in advance of the event day (e.g. book signings, videos, etc).